DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

2. Claims 1-15 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-15 of copending Application No. 10/228,841. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kadner et al. (US 6,069,563).

Regarding claim 1, Kadner et al. disclose a tamper-resistant remotely electronic seal (100, figure 4), comprising:

a shaft portion in the form of a pin (102, figure 4); a socket arranged in the form of a seat (104) to engage the shaft portion in a monitorable manner (figure 4, col. 4, lines 1-10); and a wireless communicator (transmitter and transmission coil 108) associated with at least one of the shaft portion and the socket portion and being operative to provide a remotely monitorable indication of the monitor event (figures 5c-7).

Regarding claim 2, Kadner et al. disclose the shaft portion includes at least on conductive path (106, figure 4) which is interrupted in response to disengagement of the socket and the shaft portion and wherein the wireless communicator being operative to provide a remote monitorable indication of the monitorable event (col. 5, lines 10-36).

Regarding claim 15, Kadner et al. disclose the wireless communicator being a wireless transceiver that initiates a trigger event and responsive to a seal reader.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 3-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims and/or overcome the double patenting rejected above.
